Souring in Horses

What are Barn Sour/ Arena Sour/ Ring Sour?

Horses, like humans and pets tend to have a variety of behavioral problems. These behavioral issues may arise suddenly, after a traumatic experience, or may be deeply rooted from past experiences. For instance, an abused horse may lack confidence when it is away from home base.

A horse may want to return to the barn when the owner is trying to ride him/her out – or a horse may show great resistance to riding in a ring or staying in an arena. These are issues that need to be addressed on many levels – with physical and mental support and perseverance.

What Causes Barn Sour/ Arena Sour/ Ring Sour?

Barn Sour is likely the result of anxiety produced by separation from:

- A group of horses (the herd)
- A particular equine buddy
- A physical location that represents security

The cause of this problem is almost always horse anxiety caused from insecurity. Remember that as a prey animal, a horse's in-built mechanism is fight or flight response kicks in when danger is present. Safety lies in numbers. Perceived separation from the herd leaves a horse vulnerable to attack – this instinct is still sharp, despite years of evolution and domesticity. As insecurity escalates, the matter is made worse as horse has not reached the level of training necessary to overcome the insecurity. This can create a cycle that is hard to break.

Arena Sour/Ring Sour is mostly caused by strict routines that never waver tend to cause ring sour horses. A horse may become frustrated with the same routine and boredom may cause it to 'act out' and avoid the routine. An unpleasant experience in the ring or underlying anxiety and stress can greatly influence a horse's avoidance of a ring or arena. A horse may avoid entering the area at all costs- producing an emotional and unpleasant experience for both horse and owner.

Diagnosing Barn Sour/ Arena Sour/ Ring Sour

A barn sour horse will not willingly leave the barn, and when it eventually does, it will try anything to return to the barn, often speeding back at great pace! This can make leaving impossible and cause great distress for both horse and owner.

Never disregard professional medical advice or delay in seeking it because of something you have read in this ebook or on ANY website.

A ring sour horse is any horse that does not willingly enter the arena or ring. If a horse won't go willingly and easily into an arena (whether he's a park horse, participates in speed events or domesticated), he is said to be 'ring sour'. This type of horse has gotten the idea that the arena is an unpleasant place to be and resists going into the arena or ring at all costs.

Help for Barn Sour/ Arena Sour/ Ring Sour

There are many medications to assist horses that have behavioral issues or stress and anxiety. Unfortunately these medications are not without side effects, and while they may help to relax the horse in the short term, their long-term effects are not known. Furthermore, sedatives and calming drugs can leave a horse's senses dulled – that can make competitive events difficult, as concentration and alertness is required. Speak to your vet about other alternatives.

Natural Remedies

There are many herbal and homeopathic remedies that can help to lessen anxiety, stress and insecurity while still keeping your horse alert. Homeopathic ingredients such as Chamomilla, Kali. phos and Cina have been used traditionally for centuries to treat underlying root causes of stress and fear and promote confidence and calmness.

Homeopathic remedies get to work on a cellular level, addressing the horse's imbalances and promoting adequate levels in the living cells needed for physical and mental health. Phosphorus and Asarum can also help to strengthen the nervous system in the animal body – promoting sound mental health in the barn, the ring or the arena or on the open plains.

Tips related to Barn Sour

Teach your horse to be responsive to your cues. Focus your horse's attention on you, away from the barn and his buddies. Do this in a calm manner.

- Start by asking him to perform basic, familiar maneuvers near the barn.
- Gradually increase the difficulty of the maneuvers and increase the distance – working farther and farther from home.
- Ride about 10 feet from the barn, then turn and ride back to it.
- When your horse seems comfortable with this, ride about 15 feet away from the barn before returning to home base. Then ride out 10 feet from the barn, returning to within five feet, before riding 20 feet away.
- Play with the distance and direction. With repetition your horse will learn to stay relaxed – as he/she knows you will return to the barn.
- Use a smooth full-cheek snaffle – allowing you to ride with two hands, use your reins to "lead" your horse.
- Gather 10 cones, or other markers, to create a "test" pattern.
- Praise and reward him when he gives you even the slightest positive response. (Do not whip or spur).
- Spend 2 to 3 hours on this and repeat it daily until your horse willingly moves away from the barn at your request.

Tips related to Arena Sour/Ring Sour

- Vary your routine of showing as much as possible
- Allow your horse to take part in other events, to take the edge off competitive habits
- Change or delay the manner in which you enter the ring or arena. Repetitive and habitual behavior by an owner often creates frustration for a horse and may contribute to the likelihood of ring sour...

Try the following:

- Keep your horse with you and vary the things you do – lead him/her into the ring when you set up a pattern. Ride him/her into the arena while others are warming up then dismount and lead him/her on foot.
- Mount outside the arena one time, inside the next.
- Enter the arena at speed one time, walk, trot, or lead in the next.
- Vary the exit in the same way.
- Take him/her through the pattern slowly or even start it in the middle!

The Natural Approach

While Western medicine has become the norm in many cultures, it is not the only treatment option. Conventional western medicine, often called allopathic medicine, is the system of medicine taught at most medical schools and most pharmaceutical and synthetic medicines are manufactured and marketed according to the principles of allopathic medicine. Allopathic medicine is also sometimes called orthodox medicine.

Because most of us in the Western world have grown up in a society in which allopathic medicine is the prevailing norm, we forget that, only a few decades ago, homeopathic, herbal and other natural medicines were commonly available – and freely used even by conventional doctors and veterinarians. While there are often heated debates about which system of medicine is 'better' than the other, many responsible doctors and vets (whether they are allopathic or not) recognize that both have a role to play in the treatment program.

Just like humans, domesticated animals like dogs and cats are affected by the health hazards of modern living. Pollution, poor nutrition, stress and unhealthy lifestyles can lead to a variety of illnesses and conditions that are very similar to those experienced by humans. In fact, many, if not most pet health concerns can be addressed by helping your pets to live a healthier lifestyle. While it has its place, conventional medicine for animals and 'modern technology' have failed our pets in many ways.

According to pet expert and author CJ Puotinen, most holistic veterinarians and animal health care professions list annual vaccinations and commercial pet foods as the major contributory cause in the rising rates of chronic illness in pets today. Similarly, Juliette de Bairacli Levy, respected author and renowned animal breeder, points out that contrary to the belief that mass vaccination and antibiotic use will contribute to a decrease in disease, the opposite has in fact proved true. Like their human counterparts, today's pets are becoming more and more vulnerable to chronic disease and ill health. This has led many veterinarians to search for alternatives and to espouse more holistic methods of keeping our pets healthy.

"In the wild, animals instinctively seek out healing herbs to help them when they are ill or undernourished. In fact, Asclepius, the ancient Greek god of medicine, respected dogs very highly for their ability to seek out and eat medicinal herbs in the wild. This ability is shared by other animals, including cats. We are coming to realize that nature often has the answers - but animals have always known this! Natural medicine can help your pet just as it can help you. While there is always a place for conventional veterinary medicine, natural medicine can compliment conventional veterinary care and in many cases do just as well. I have applied the same care and research that have gone into our Native Remedies range for adults and children to the development of pet-friendly, safe and effective natural remedies for animals. As always, all remedies are formulated to the highest therapeutic standards and manufactured under strict pharmaceutical conditions for your peace of mind and the well being of your pets. " Michele Carelse, Clinical Psychologist.

"When a veterinary surgeon practices the use of homeopathic medicine and is asked why he does so, he may give one of several answers. The simple answer would be that the results are good, an emphatic answer would be that homeopathic treatment has no unpleasant or dangerous side effects, while still achieving successful results.

The PetAlive Homeopathic range has been formulated with this knowledge and is specifically designed to treat your pet in a holistic and natural manner."

With the increasing popularity of aromatherapy, reflexology, color & crystal therapy and a return to a more holistic lifestyle, people have begun searching for ways to earn more money; expand their skills; improve the health of themselves, friends & family; and increase their knowledge of alternative medicine.

The Alternative Healing Academy has developed several new courses in the holistic health care field for those who would like the opportunity to learn a healing modality at their own pace and in their own homes.

A Doctor of Reflexology with The Alternative Healing Academy is teaching classes with curriculum very similar to the Reflexology Practitioner Course and the Basic Aromatherapy at her local community college.

Our holistic health courses were developed by professionals in the Holistic Health Care field trained in the following modalities: Aromatherapy, Advanced/Master Aromatherapy, Reiki, Tuning Fork Therapy, Color and Crystal Therapy, Homeopathy, Herbalism, and Advanced Reflexology.

Furthermore, since we at the Alternative Healing Academy also realize that not everyone wants to make alternative medicine a career choice, we also offer basic courses as well as several Mini Courses which will teach you the skills you need to help improve the health and quality of life for yourself, your family and your friends.

Common Questions Asked About Holistic Health Distance Learning Courses:

What is Certification?

Most schools will offer an exam that tests the student's knowledge of the material taught in the respective course. Upon successful completion of this exam, a Certificate or Diploma will be issued by the school attesting that the student has successfully met the requirements as specified by that school. The only governmental recognition of Aromatherapy in North America is the occupational title designation granted to the BCAA under the Societies Act of British Columbia.

What is a Certified Aromatherapist or Reflexologist?

Most prospective students want to know whether taking our courses will lead to their becoming 'Certified' in that healing modality, thereby leading to the title of Certified Aromatherapist, Certified Reflexologist or Certified Color/Crystal Therapist. The answer to this really depends on what you mean by 'Certified.' We believe it can be misleading to purport that completing a course in a healing modality such as reflexology, aromatherapy or color/crystal therapy will lead to a designation of 'Certified' Therapist. These are not official title designations nor are they ones which are recognized by any country's governmental body. All that these titles mean is that this is what an Individual Instructor, School or Institution decided to put on the Diploma it awards those who successfully complete their course.

What is an accredited course in Aromatherapy or Reflexology?

The answer to this will depend on who you are asking. At the present time, British Columbia is the only government to recognize Aromatherapy as a distinct profession and has granted Occupational Title Protection to the members of the BCAA (British Columbia Alliance of Aromatherapy) with the exclusive right for its members to call themselves Registered Aromatherapists (R.A.).

At this time, neither Reflexology nor Color/Crystal Therapy have such occupational designations in any country although one prominent Reflexology school in Colorado, The Modern Institute of Reflexology, has gained occupational designation for their institution in that state. MIR has been designated by the Colorado State Division of Private Occupational Schools - Dept. of Higher Education as an approved school. Our Reflexologist who developed the reflexology modules for our courses was trained at MIR as a Certified Reflexologist, a Master Reflexologist and a Dr. of Reflexology.

In the United States, the NAHA (National Association for Holistic Aromatherapy) has put into place their Approved Standards for Aromatherapy Training. The Alternative Healing Academy's Advanced Aromatherapy course meets and exceeds these standards and we are in the application process of becoming an approved program through the NAHA.

In Canada, there are a number of different Associations including the BCAPA (British Columbia Association of Practicing Aromatherapists) and the CFA (Canadian Federation of Aromatherapists). Time will tell if one authoritative body or association becomes the standard by which to judge and govern the educational offerings of these alternative healing modalities.

It has to be noted that NO form of aromatherapy "certification" is currently recognized in the USA by anyone other than those in the trade, nor is aromatherapy (or essential oils in the aromatherapy trade) regulated by any governmental body.

Some information about the courses we offer:

1) You can receive the course in one of two ways: A cd with the modules and tests in PDF format can be shipped to you; or, The modules can be emailed to you three at a time. Each time you complete the tests for the current three modules, a new set of three modules will be emailed to you.

2) All modules are clearly explained, are in pdf format and fully illustrated.

3) The Advanced Aromatherapy Practitioner and the Advanced Reflexology Practitioner courses are designed to meet the National Association for Holistic Aromatherapy (NAHA) guidelines.

4) A tutor will be available via email to answer any questions you may have.

You will be contacted after purchase to find out how you would like your course delivered. All tests for the course can be either emailed or snail-mailed to The Alternative Healing Academy.

Upon successful completion of any full diploma or certification course (with a score of 80% or higher), you will receive a beautiful Diploma, suitable for framing.

Course Testimonials

"I'm done! Going through the final and the case studies and having such amazing experiences and opportunities to help people, I truly feel blessed and honored to have had the intense education that came with this course. I discovered in me a new ability to serve others, not only through education but through the power of healing that comes with the use of essential oils. I am continuing to train personally with Alexandria Brighton and have begun work toward opening an aromatherapy practice. Thank you so much for your patience and knowledge. Most of all thank you for this new way of living and enjoying Life."

-A. Lindquist - Advanced Aromatherapy Practitioner

"I am finding the course great. It is written very well so even people like me can understand the human body a whole lot better. I just hope that I can remember it all. I don't think I have a chance of remembering the names of everything in the muscular system or the movement system. But, I do have more of an understanding of how everything works now. I find it just amazing. Thanks Heaps."

-M. Oliver - Basic Anatomy & Physiology

"This information is great that you are teaching. I would really like to talk my oldest daughter into taking your course. It really goes into detail which is very informative."

-Debbie F. - Basic Reflexology

"Seven years ago I started to see a reflexologist for migraines and sinus problems. I was amazed that I finally found relief without medication. I decided this year to search out a course in reflexology so I could help family and friends and show them the benefits of reflexology. I researched various courses on the internet and decided to go with the basic course through the Alternative Healing Academy. I was impressed with course material and the ease of receiving the course material."

"I was given an choice of having a CD sent to me or to receiving and sending back the assignments through email. I choose email. I received 3 lessons at a time that I could read and study on my own time frame and return the lessons when I was done. Everything was sent in a very timely manner and communication was open and quick. If I needed help, I knew it was only a click away and the response time was very quick. The techniques used also came in a video mode in the email that I could replay as much as I needed to."

"I felt I learned a lot and am able to help myself and others. Being able to log 20 hours of treatment time and writing the case histories for the final exam was extremely rewarding and helpful. I would recommend this course to others interested in reflexology because the course material was very informative and complete and written in easy to understand language."

-Jean Russell - Basic Reflexology Course

"I'm so excited about (the Advanced Aromatherapy course) and I'm particularly excited about the possibility of making custom blends for people! I hadn't anticipated having that opportunity when I took the course so I'm excited to have everything done! I'm very excited to have finished. I really enjoyed this course and really appreciate all the work you've put into it! This has been a fabulous jumping off point for me and I'm so glad I took it."

"p.s. I know the boys are much slower at the Reflexology, but my son is loving the classes."
